Handbook for Red Crown Employees

This handbook sets forth the general policies which govern your employment at Red Crown. These policies and guidelines are, of course, subject to change from time to time to deal with changing needs and situations. However, in all circumstances, employment with Red Crown is considered "at will". This means that either you or Red Crown can terminate the employment relationship at any time, with or without cause. No one has the authority to change this "at will" relationship except in an individual employment agreement, in writing, signed by the employee and appropriate Red Crown management personnel.

Red Crown's success depends on each of us - how well we apply our professional knowledge, experience, and skills to do our jobs within the framework of Credit Union policies and practices. Each of us is responsible for building a high level of operating efficiency. Therefore, please share with your supervisor your ideas for improvements. They are always welcome.

A Look at Red Crown

Red Crown Federal Credit Union is a federally chartered credit union organized in 1938 by the employees of Amoco Corporation, formerly Standard Oil Company (Indiana). Red Crown's purpose, completely independent of Amoco, was to promote thrift among its members by giving them the opportunity to accumulate their savings and to create for them a source of credit. Until late 2001, only Amoco employees, members of the immediate families of Red Crown members, regular employees and several Select Employee Groups (SEGs) of this Credit Union were eligible for membership in Red Crown. In October 2001, Red Crown Federal Credit membership expanded by changing to a community charter credit union. The charter change allowed membership eligibility to any persons who live, work, worship, volunteer or attend school and businesses located in the Tulsa Creek, Mayes, Okmulgee, Osage, Pawnee, Rogers, and Wagoner Counties of Oklahoma. Once a member, you may remain a member for life.

Equal Employment Opportunity Employer (EEO)

The employment policy of Red Crown is to provide an equal employment opportunity for all qualified employees and applicants without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, age, marital status, military status, physical or mental disability/handicap in regard to any position for which any employee or applicant is qualified. Red Crown will comply with the EEO's regulations regarding the Genetic Information Nondiscrimination Act of 2008 (GINA). This policy is consistent with the requirements and objectives set forth by the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and all federal and state laws and regulations.

This policy encompasses all employment practices including, but not limited to:

- Hiring, placement
- Recruitment, advertising for employment
- Promotions, transfers, upgrading
- Treatment during employment
- Rates of pay or forms of compensation and benefits
- Selection of training
- Social and recreational programs
- Discipline, layoffs, recalls or terminations

This policy is consistent with the requirements and objectives set forth by the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and all federal and state laws and regulations.

The objective of Red Crown is to obtain individuals who are qualified or trainable for positions by virtue of job related standards of education, training, experience and personal qualifications. Employees and applicants are protected from coercion, intimidation, interference, or discrimination for filing a complaint or assisting in an investigation under the acts covering qualified disabled individuals, Vietnam Era and disabled veterans.

The general responsibility for ensuring compliance and continued implementation of Red Crown's policy on equal employment opportunity is the CEO/President of Red Crown. All questions or concerns with respect to this or any other policy of Red Crown should immediately be brought to the attention of the Human Resources Representative.

Americans With Disabilities Act (ADA) Policy

Red Crown, consistent with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), will reasonably accommodate qualified individuals with disabilities. It is the policy of the Credit Union to comply with all federal and state laws concerning the employment of persons with disabilities.

It is the Credit Union's policy not to discriminate against qualified individuals with disabilities in regard to application procedures, hiring, advancement, terminations, compensation, training, or other terms, conditions, and privileges of employment.

Red Crown will reasonably accommodate qualified individuals with a temporary or long-term disability so that they can perform the essential functions of a job.

An individual who can be reasonably accommodated for a job, without undue hardship, will be given the same consideration for that position as any other applicant.

- The employee should notify his or her immediate supervisor of the need for a reasonable accommodation.
- The Credit Union will request the employee to provide a medical certification(s) in form and content appropriate to facilitate the Credit Union's assessment of the employee's need for reasonable accommodation. Complete and timely cooperation between the Credit Union and the requesting employee will be expected.
- Before an employee is deemed qualified for an accommodation(s) under ADA, the employee must first be a qualified employee with a disability and the employee must be able to perform the essential functions of his or her position, with or without accommodation. Once a determination is made that the requesting employee is deemed qualified under ADA, the Credit Union will engage in communications with the employee to identify and assess the employees' accommodation request.
- If the accommodation request is determined to be reasonable, the Credit Union will move forward in a timely manner to implement any of the approved accommodations. If the request is determined to be unreasonable, the Credit Union will consider the employee for any other current, open positions for which the employee is qualified.
- If there are no current positions open for which the employee is qualified then the Credit Union will terminate employment.

All employees are required to comply with safety standards. Applicants who pose a direct threat to the health or safety of other individuals in the workplace, which threat cannot be eliminated by reasonable accommodation, will not be hired. Current employees who pose a direct threat to the health or safety of the other individuals in the workplace will be placed on appropriate leave until an organizational decision has been made in regard to the employee's immediate employment situation.

Please contact Human Resources for more information or clarification.

Harassment/Sexual Harassment

It is the policy of Red Crown that it will not tolerate verbal or physical conduct by an employee, customer or guest who harasses, disrupts or interferes with another's work performance, creates an intimidating or hostile environment or which adversely affects an individual's employment opportunities.

Harassment is considered to be verbal or physical conduct that denigrates or shows hostility or aversion toward an individual because of race, color, religion, gender, national origin, age, disability or status of Vietnam Era or disabled veteran, or that of relatives, friends or associates, and that (1) has the purpose or effect of creating an intimidating, hostile or offensive work environment; (2) has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's work performance; or (3) adversely affects an individual's employment opportunities.

Examples of harassing conduct include: epithets, slurs, negative stereotyping, or threatening, intimidating or hostile acts that relate to race, color, religion, gender, national origin, age or disability, as well as "jokes" or "pranks" that are hostile or demeaning; and written or graphic material that denigrates or show hostility or aversion toward an individual or group because of race, color, religion, gender, national origin, age or disability that is placed on walls, bulletin boards or elsewhere on Company premises or circulated in the workplace.

It is the policy of Red Crown to emphasize that sexual harassment is also prohibited. Unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature constitutes sexual harassment when (1) submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of an individual's employment, (2) submission to or rejection of such conduct by an individual is used as a basis for employment decisions affecting such individuals, or (3) such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's work performance of creating an intimidating or offensive work environment.

Any employee, supervisor or manager who is found, after appropriate investigation, to have engaged in harassment of another employee will be subject to appropriate disciplinary action, up to and including termination.

Red Crown takes complaints of discrimination and harassment very seriously. Thus, there is no need to follow any formal chain of command when making a report. An employee may bypass anyone in his/her direct chain of command and report the complaint to Human Resources, a member of management or any officer of Red Crown at any time. All complaints of harassment and discrimination will be investigated. All complaints will be kept confidential to the extent possible while still allowing Red Crown to investigate and take action, if necessary.

Red Crown prohibits any form of retaliation against any employee for filing a bona fide complaint under this policy or for assisting in a complaint investigation. However, if after investigating a complaint under this policy, Red Crown determines that the complaint is not bona fide and was not made in good faith or that an employee has provided false information regarding the complaint, disciplinary action up to and including discharge may be taken against the individual who filed the complaint or who gave the false information.

Employment

Employment Status

Employee Classifications

At Red Crown, almost all employees are classified as "regular, full time employees, which is defined as working at least forty (40) hours during a normal work week. Red Crown does employ "part time" employees. Part time employment is defined as working less than thirty (30) hours as defined by the Affordable Care Act in a work week.

If the work you do is not subject to the overtime provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act, your job has an exempt classification, and you are not eligible for overtime pay. If your work is subject to the provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act, your job has a non-exempt classification. This means that you are entitled to overtime pay for time worked under the conditions explained in the section on overtime pay provisions.

Job Performance Review

Your job performance is reviewed and discussed during a formal performance evaluation interview with your supervisor generally during the first quarter of the year. This is a special time designated for you and your supervisor to discuss your work (quality, quantity, accuracy, timeliness, etc.); identify specific areas and methods for further development and improvement in your performance; and to establish the major objectives on which your performance will be evaluated during the next evaluation period. The process of individual job performance discussions with your supervisor should be ongoing. The highlights of this process are setting performance goals and expected results, timely counseling and coaching, performance evaluation, and the resulting formal performance evaluation interview.

Your supervisor will notify you in advance of the formal evaluation interview date, so you can prepare for the discussion. This is an important conversation which aids in your career progress and development. Your contribution in this discussion is extremely important. Evaluation interviews are a two-way exchange in which the supervisor and employee work together. A better dialogue results when you both plan for it.

In addition to these regularly scheduled feedback sessions, feel free to discuss your performance with your supervisor at any time. If you are not meeting the requirements of your job due to marginal performance, excessive absence, inattention to duty, failure to follow instructions, etc., your supervisor will discuss the situation(s) with you as privately as possible and give you an opportunity to improve your work performance. Your supervisor will continue to counsel you regarding your progress and the desired results.

Employee Personnel Records

Each employee has a personnel file, and it is important that your personal data on file with the Credit Union be current and accurate. Personnel files are physically filed at the main office. It is your responsibility to notify your supervisor of any changes in your status, i.e., home address, military status, withholding exemptions, educational achievements, benefit plan status changes, etc. A copy of any material placed in an employee's file which may affect a job performance evaluation will be presented to the employee prior to placing in the personnel file. Such receipt or review of such material shall be acknowledged by the signature of the employee. The employee file and its contents are the property of the Credit Union. Requests for copies of documents and/or review of the file is not available to employees after separation from the organization.

Work Schedules

The basic work schedule is eight hours a day for a five-day, 40-hour week, with a one-hour daily lunch period. Work schedules are established and changed to meet operating requirements. Check with your supervisor if you have questions about your work schedule.

Work breaks are not scheduled; however, when the work load permits, they are allowed. These periods are not to be used to leave the premises during work hours. Situations occasionally arise that require employees to leave the building. Permission from your supervisor is required for the absence.

Flex Time -

Flex time may be granted during a work week if an employee would be working over 40 hours due to Saturday schedule, reporting early or staying late. If flex time is granted, it must be used in the same work week. For this purpose, the work week begins on Saturday and ends on Friday.

Flex time must be pre-approved by staff supervisor. Holidays, staffing schedules and workload will be considered prior to approving flex time. In the case of non-exempt employees, if flex time is not used during the same work week, the employee will be compensated for total hours worked. If hours worked exceed 40 hours, overtime will apply.

Building Your Service Record

You should carefully protect your continuous service because many of your benefits increase in proportion to your years of service. The values of the retirement plan, vacations, and sick leave benefits depend upon your length of service. If you are classified as a "regular, full-time" employee, you accumulate credited service based upon the length of time you have been continuously employed by Red Crown. Part-time employees do not accrue credited service. Service is broken by resignation, discharge, retirement, layoff of more than one year, and failure to report for work upon the expiration of a leave of absence.

Personnel Changes

During your employment with Red Crown, you will likely be involved in personnel changes. All personnel changes are made on the basis of ability, as determined by your present job performance, past record, and qualification to handle the particular job for which you are being considered.

Promotion from within the Credit Union

Red Crown seeks to enhance each employee's career progress. Generally, job vacancies will be posted and distributed. Red Crown will generally recruit candidates internally and externally simultaneously. Job postings will include the job title, department, job summary, essential duties and minimum qualifications. Red Crown reserves its discretionary right not to post positions at a higher management level or for any particular vacancy.

All employees, including part time employees, must be in his/her current position for a minimum of six (6) months, before posting for other positions. Employees may post only one position at a time. Employees who are on a corrective action are not eligible to apply for posted positions. An employee's current supervisor may be contacted to verify performance, skills and attendance.

Parallel Moves or Transfers

When an employee transfers from one functional area to another with similar or equal responsibilities, no salary increase shall be provided. When the current salary exceeds the new salary range maximum, the salary may be reduced to at least the maximum of the new lower range at the time of the downward reassignment or the salary may be frozen at a level in excess of the maximum of the new salary range when prior approval is obtained. No individual salary increases will be granted until the employee's salary is again within the range. The employee will be informed of this restriction.

Placing Employees Returning from Leave

Red Crown will follow all FMLA and USERRA regulations in regards to those employees returning from medical or military leave.

Outside Employment and Other External Activities

All regular full-time employees must obtain approval from his/her immediate supervisors and Human Resources before accepting any outside employment. Approval will be based on possible conflict of interest, any interference with the employee's ability to perform job duties for Red Crown and interference with regular working hours. Activity related to outside employment may not take place during the employee's regular hours nor involve the use of the company's resources.

Any employee who wishes to serve in an advisory capacity for another organization or serve on the board of any organization must first obtain approval from Human Resources and the CEO/President. Approval will be granted based on the amount of time and type of activity involved, any interference with the employee's regular work schedule, and the benefit to the employee and Red Crown.

Resignation/Termination

Termination by Employer

Employees may be terminated for cause or at will.

Resignation by Staff - Staff is encouraged to provide a minimum of two weeks notice of resignation in writing.

Resignation of Management - Management is encouraged to provide a minimum of four weeks notice of resignation in writing.

Employees and management who provide advanced notice of resignation would be considered for rehire.

An exit interview will be scheduled and conducted by the supervisory committee or its designee.

Nepotism

No relatives of a current Red Crown employee, Board Member, or Committee Member will be hired. A relative includes a spouse, child, parent, brother, sister, aunt, uncle, niece, nephew, grandchild or grandparent. This policy also applies when the relationship was established by marriage, common law, adoption or foster placement.

If a nepotism relationship is created as a result of a marriage between two employees, one employee must terminate his/her employment within thirty days

Salary and Benefits

Compensation

Red Crown pays salaries that are internally consistent with the relative value of each job and that compare favorably with salaries paid by other financial institutions for comparable work. Each job is assigned a grade that is consistent with the requirements and responsibilities of that job. Each grade has a minimum and maximum salary rate range. Your supervisor can tell you where your job fits in the salary rate range structure and the minimum and maximum rates in that range. As an ongoing practice, job structures, salary ranges, and benefits are reviewed and adjusted as conditions warrant.

Wage and Salary Administration

A salary range will be established for each job classification. The salary of each employee will be within the established range. Salary range minimum and maximums for each job class will be established and updated annually. New employees will be hired at a rate commensurate to experience.

Part time employees will be paid no less than the minimum established for the classification.

Time Worked - Non-exempt Employees

Occasionally, employees volunteer to work in the community, representing Red Crown. While these hours are tracked for paid purposes, these hours are not included in the compensation for overtime (I.e. those hours are not considered "work time" for the purpose of overtime).

If time spent in an activity is considered as "time worked," it is included in the total hours worked during the day or week for purposes of computing overtime. For example, when you are authorized travel time, the time spent is considered as "time worked."

Overtime - Salaried Non-exempt Employees

At times, you may be required to work beyond your regular work schedule. Salaried non-exempt employees qualify for overtime pay if required to work over 40 hours in one week.

Non-exempt employees who are required to work additional hours beyond his/her normal schedule will be given as much advance notice as possible. Employees may not work additional hours without the prior approval of his/her supervisor.

Paychecks

Payday and Your Pay Statement

Regularly scheduled payday is every other Friday. If a holiday falls on Friday, the last work day before the holiday then becomes a payday. Employees are encouraged to open an account with Red Crown FCU for direct deposit of payroll monies. If employees choose to have direct deposit with other organizations, it will be necessary for the employee to provide applicable documentation for the direct deposit. Employees will receive an electronic pay statement on payday. In our biweekly pay system, time is reported for each two-week pay period beginning at midnight Friday and ending 14 days later at midnight Friday. Your pay statement includes regular scheduled time for the current pay period, as well as, overtime, vacation, etc. Electronic time sheets are approved by supervisors on Monday, following the end of the pay period and are forwarded to the payroll administrator for processing by Tuesday morning.

Pay Statements

So that you will always have your cumulative pay record available, your pay statements are stored on-line by our payroll processor. These are your pay record until you receive your annual W-2 from the Credit Union. In addition to your earnings, your pay statement also is your quick reference to other important information, i.e., federal and state tax withholdings, FICA (Social Security tax), your authorized deductions, such as medical insurance, if applicable and total vacation and sick time accrued.

Payroll Garnishments

Because of the nature of this business, Red Crown employees are expected to manage his/her personal finances in a prudent and responsible manner. Excessive garnishments create an administrative process which is cumbersome to the Credit Union and generally a hardship for employees. Employees are strongly discouraged from creating such instances where this might occur. Fees may be assessed per pay period for administration of garnishment.

Questions

If you have questions about your paycheck, talk with your supervisor.

Insurance and Other Benefits

Major Medical Insurance

Each regular full-time employee and part-time employee working at least 24 hours per week will be provided group health, dental and hospitalization insurance. The majority of the cost will be paid by Red Crown, however, employees are asked to pay a small monthly amount. Coverage will be reviewed periodically to determine cost effectiveness and continuation of present options. Dependent coverage is available with a portion of the premium paid by the employee. In a case where more than one plan is offered with premium differences, Red Crown will pay the premium of the lower cost plan.

Life Insurance

Each regular, full-time employee will be provided a group life and accidental death and dismemberment insurance policy totaling three times their annual salary to a maximum of $300,000. The cost will be paid by the credit union.

Short Term Disability

On the 31st day following an accident or illness, the Credit Union provides short term disability benefits to eligible employees. The benefit provides approximately two-thirds of the employee's weekly benefit earnings up to a maximum of $700 per week.

Long Term Disability

On the 91st day following an accident or illness, the Credit Union provides long term disability benefits to eligible employees. The benefit provides approximately two-thirds of the employee's monthly earnings up to a maximum of $5,000 per month. This benefit is made available to eligible employees who are experiencing a long term medical condition.

COBRA - Continuation of Health Coverage

In compliance with current federal law, continuation of coverage on health insurance will be provided. The coverage provided is identical to the coverage under the employer's Group Health Plan. The person electing continuation of coverage will be responsible for the monthly premium. Additional information will be provided by Human Resources

Vacations

A new full time employee is eligible for two (2) weeks vacation following one year of service. One week may be taken following six months of service. Employees who terminate prior to the one year period will not receive vacation pay. Employees who terminate after one year are entitled to accrued vacation pay, with acceptable resignation notice.

Vacations for employees who have completed one year of service may be scheduled any time after January 1st of the calendar year in which the service anniversary falls. After the first year of employment, employees are required to take at least five days of vacation consecutively.

During the year which contains an employees' fifth (5th) work anniversary, the employee is entitled to three (3) weeks paid vacation. During the year in which a tenth (10th) anniversary falls, the employee is entitled to four (4) weeks of paid vacation.

Vacations should not interfere with the efficient operation of Credit Union business.

Part-time employees, who work a minimum of 24 hours per week and has been employed for 1 year are eligible to earn vacation. During years 1 to 5, 48 hours; years 5 to 10, 72 hours, and years 10+, 96 hours.

Vacation schedules may be changed to meet Credit Union needs. Vacation requests are subject to the following provisions/guidelines:

- Vacations will be scheduled with the advance approval of management.
- An employee must take all earned vacation each year unless requested by management to carry forward.
- Vacation may not be taken as part of or as a termination notice.
- At retirement, or termination, vacation allowance will be paid in the final paycheck.
- Vacation time may be used while an employee is on extended sick leave and has exhausted his/her sick time.
- Vacation will not be awarded while an employee is on any leave of absence other than military or long-term disability absence due to on-the-job injury.
- Any request for unpaid time off must be approved by the Senior Management Team.

Holidays

Red Crown Federal Credit Union generally observes the Federal Reserve holiday closing schedules. All regular full time employees may receive ten (10) paid holidays per year. Part-time employees may receive paid time off for holidays for hours regularly scheduled for that day.

Red Crown reserves the right to add/eliminate holidays based on the needs of the organization. Holidays for the upcoming year are defined and approved by the board each year. Approved holiday schedule will be published through the payroll system at the beginning of each year.

Employees must be in paid work status the day before and the day after the holiday to be paid for the holiday. Exception to this policy would be when an employee is on vacation and the day off before or after the holiday has been previously approved.

If you are a non-exempt employee and are required to work on the holiday, you will be paid for hours worked that day and you will be paid holiday pay.

Absences

As a normal condition of accepting employment, you are responsible for reporting to work on time every scheduled day. Your dependability is extremely important.

However, time off may be approved for acceptable reasons. Discuss your need and circumstances for time off with your supervisor. Your supervisor is responsible for investigating and authorizing your absence, and determining your eligibility for pay, if applicable, in addition to planning for your work continuation in your absence. It is important for you to understand that these types of absences require a "request" by you to your supervisor and do not constitute an automatic approval. Factors which may enter into a management decision would be your previous attendance record, length of service and the impact of your absence upon your co-workers, supervisory needs, and overall Credit Union operations.

If it is necessary for you to be absent from work, speak with your supervisor as far in advance as possible. If you are off work and something unplanned occurs to keep you from reporting to work as scheduled, you must inform your supervisor as soon as possible, preferably within the hour prior to the time you are scheduled to arrive at work. Do not rely on notification through co-workers, email, or text. Please communicate with your supervisor directly.

Accurate employee records of vacation time, sick leave, leave without pay, overtime work and compensation time will be kept by each employee's immediate supervisor.

Sick Time/Leave

All regular, full-time employees will receive paid sick time/leave.

- Paid sick leave will be accrued at two (2) days per calendar quarter and will be credited at the end of each quarter.
- Accrued sick leave may be used for employee and family illness, medical appointments and funerals.
- Employees can accrue a maximum of twenty-five (25) days of sick leave.
- Sick leave may require written medical evidence at the discretion of the supervisor.
- Following a thirty (30) day waiting period, after accident or illness, the insured employee will be protected by group short term. This will provide approximately two-thirds of the individual's monthly salary until the employee is able to resume work.
- At the time that all sick days are used, accrued vacation days may be substituted in lieu of beginning salary continuance insurance.
- Misuse of sick leave will be cause for disciplinary action up to and including dismissal.
- The employee is responsible for contacting his/her immediate supervisor when calling in for sick time. In case of an emergency and someone other than the employee makes the initial call, the employee must call the supervisor at the first opportunity.
- When an employee has been absent for more than three consecutive work days because of an illness/accident, or they have had an infectious disease or any surgical procedure, a statement from the employee's personal physician may be required by the immediate supervisor prior to the employee's return to work. The statement should include the following:

- a. Work restrictions, if any; and
 - b. The date the physician considers it appropriate for the employee to return to work.
 - c. Red Crown, at its discretion, may request a physician's statement for any period of time when an employee is absent from work.
- Red Crown may request a physical and review of an illness by a physician of Red Crown's choice.
 - An employee may receive sick time pre/post or during vacation if the illness results in a hospitalization stay. Sick days pre or post vacation time will require a physician's review and release to work.
 - Sick leave will not be used for inclement weather absence.
 - Sick leave will not accrue while an employee is on any unpaid leave of absence.

Return to Work

If you are absent for three (3) or more work days due to illness, disability, or a leave of absence, you will be required to obtain a doctor's statement indicating you may return to work without any restrictions. Your release should be given to your immediate supervisor who will forward it to Human Resources.

Donation of Sick Time

Employees having over 100 hours accumulated sick time can donate a portion of their hours to a fellow employee in the event of a catastrophic injury or illness of the fellow employee or their immediate family member. Qualification of injury or illness as "catastrophic" will be determined by executive management. The employee receiving a donation of sick leave from other employees must have exhausted all of his/her sick and vacation time first. Aggregate sick hours donated to an employee may not exceed 80 hours.

Family Medical Leave Act (FMLA)

Eligibility for Family and Medical Leave

In accordance with the Family and Medical Leave Act of 1993 ("FMLA"), employees must meet both the following criteria to be eligible for family and medical leave:

Employees must have been employed by Red Crown for at least 12 months (does not have to be consecutive months).

AND

Employees must have worked for at least 1,250 hours during the 12-month period preceding the requested leave.

Eligible employees must also satisfy all other qualification requirements established by the FMLA, including the requirement that the employee be employed at a worksite where the Credit Union employs at least 50 employees within 75 miles of the worksite. Employees who are among the highest paid 10% of all employees are subject to special eligibility requirements and should promptly consult with the Human Resource Department for information about these requirements. Spouses, both of whom are employed by the Credit Union, are limited to a total of 12 weeks of leave for the birth or adoption of a child or the care of a parent with a serious medical condition.

Except for those employees designated as “key employees,” employees will be returned to the same or equivalent position upon their return from leave.

Family and medical leave will consist of appropriate accrued paid leave and unpaid leave. If an employee is entitled to both family and medical leave and paid leave under another benefit plan or policy (e.g. vacation), he/she must use all accrued paid leave first. The remainder of the FMLA leave will then be an unpaid leave. Human Resources will complete the section of the request form stating how each week of the leave is to be compensated.

Reasons for Family and Medical Leave

An eligible employee may be granted up to 12 weeks of family and medical leave consisting of appropriate accrued paid leave and unpaid leave during a “rolling 12-month period”. A rolling 12-month period will begin on the first day of authorized FMLA leave and will “roll” forward 12 months. An employee may be granted FMLA leave for the following reasons:

- The birth of the employee’s child and in order to care for the newborn child;
- The placement of a child with the employee for adoption or foster care;
- To care for the employee’s spouse, child or parent who has a serious health condition; or
- A serious health condition that makes the employee unable to perform the functions of the employee’s job.
- Any qualifying exigency arising out of the fact that the spouse, son, daughter or parent of the employee is on active duty in the Armed Forces, or has been notified of an impending call to active duty status in the Armed Forces.
- To care for a covered service member who is recovering from a serious illness or injury sustained in the line of duty on active duty in the Armed Forces, is entitled for up to twenty-six (26) weeks of leave in a single twelve month period during which an employee is entitled to a combined total of twenty-six (26) weeks of all types of FMLA leave.

NOTE: Leave for the birth or placement of a child for adoption or foster care must be taken within 12 months from the date of the birth or placement

Procedures for Requesting Family and Medical Leave

To request any leave of absence, notice for leave must be submitted to the employee’s supervisor, using a Credit Union Family and Medical Leave Request form (available in the Human Resources Department), at least 30 days prior to the leave. In the case of an emergency, employees must provide notice as much in advance of the leave as possible. To be official, the Human Resources Representative, unless specified otherwise by state or federal law, must approve all leave.

Medical Certification for Family and Medical Leave

A request for leave based on the serious health condition of the employee or the employee’s spouse, child or parent must also be accompanied by a Certification of Health Care Provider Form, available from the Human Resources Department, which is completed by the applicable health care provider and returned to the Human Resources Department.

If leave is requested for the employee’s serious health condition, the Certification must state that the employee cannot perform the functions of his/her job. For leave to care for a spouse, child or parent with a serious health condition, the Certification must so state and include an estimate of the amount of time the employee will need to provide care.

The Credit Union requires that the employee furnish medical certifications supporting the need for medical leave within the time and in such detail as prescribed by the Credit Union. Periodic reports of the employee's leave status and intent to return to work and periodic medical certifications are also required by the Credit Union. Employees who have taken leave for their own serious medical condition will need to provide the Credit Union with a fitness-for-duty certification to establish eligibility to return to work.

Intermittent or Reduced Family and Medical Leave

Family and medical leave may be taken on an intermittent or reduced leave schedule if it is medically necessary for a serious health condition of the employee or the employee's spouse, child, or parent. Intermittent or reduced leave for the birth or placement of a child for adoption or foster care may only be taken if the Credit Union agrees to such an arrangement.

Employees should coordinate all leave (intermittent, reduced and consecutive full day) with the Credit Union in advance of any foreseeable absence from work. The failure of an employee (a) to timely comply with the Credit Union's FMLA policy and procedures or (b) to timely return to work may result in termination of employment by the Credit Union. Intermittent leave may be limited by the Credit Union to increments permitted by the FMLA regulations and employees shall cooperate with the Credit Union to schedule their leave to minimize disruption to the Credit Union's operations. The Credit Union may assign an employee requiring intermittent leave to an alternative position to accommodate the employee's intermittent or reduced leave schedule.

Workers' Compensation and Family and Medical Leave

If an employee is receiving workers' compensation benefits and is eligible for family and medical leave, the employee can use any accrued vacation leave during the waiting period before workers' compensation benefits begin, and the remainder of the leave period will be paid according to applicable workers' compensation statutes.

Benefits Coverage during Family and Medical Leave

During a period of family and medical leave, an employee will maintain covered status under the Credit Union's benefit plans (such as group health insurance and 401(K) plan) under the same conditions that applied before leave commenced. If the leave is paid, the employee's share of the premium payments and benefit contributions, if any, will continue to be paid through payroll deduction. However, if the leave is unpaid, the employee is responsible for making any premium payments or benefit contributions when due.

Those benefits that are normally paid by an employee through payroll deductions will be continued. Once a request for leave has been approved, the Human Resource Department will complete the section of the FMLA Request form that lists the benefits the employee has chosen and associated costs. The employee and the Human Resources will agree on a payment method and the dates of payment. If an employee fails to make payment, the benefits may be terminated.

If an employee is unable to return to his/her position at the end of the leave, the employee will then be allowed to continue his benefits through COBRA.

Restoration to Employment Following Family and Medical Leave

An employee eligible for family and medical leave (except "key employees" as that term is defined by the Family and Medical Leave Act of 1993) will be restored to his/her former position or to a position with equivalent pay, benefits and other terms and conditions of employment. The Credit Union cannot guarantee that an employee will be returned to his/her former job. A determination as to whether a position is an “equivalent position” will be made by Credit Union.

Notice of Return from Family and Medical Leave

An employee must notify the Human Resources Department before being returned to active status. If an employee wishes to return to work before the expiration of a family and medical leave of absence, notification must be given to the Human Resources Department at least two (2) working days prior to the employee’s planned return. When a medical leave ends, the employee will be required to provide the Human Resources Department with a fitness-for-duty certificate to be restored to employment. The employee will then be reinstated to employment.

Other Absences

Jury Duty and Court Appearances

As a regular or part-time employee, you are paid for time away from work while serving as a juror during your regular work schedule. Time absent during jury duty is not considered as time worked for computing overtime. An employee should notify his/her supervisor immediately when summoned for jury duty. Employees should provide a copy of the summons* or subpoena to the supervisor.

If an employee is selected to serve as a juror or to appear in court as a witness, the employee will be excused from work and will receive full pay up to two (2) weeks. Pay will not be reduced by any jury pay or witness fee or any other pay received on the days he/she is required in court, up to two (2) weeks. After two (2) weeks, employees may use any available vacation.

Employees electing to receive the "buy back" option at the end of the year will receive monies as soon as all auditing procedures have been completed. Once an option has been chosen by an employee, and accounting procedures are completed, the decision becomes final. Well pay will not be paid if an employee has unpaid absences. Red Crown will not "buy back" accrued sick leave at retirement or termination of employment.
